

KarelCAD Launches the 2nd Edition of KarelCAD Evolve

The year 2009 sees the second release of KarelCAD Evolve. It is very impressive to see the quality of work that our clients have accomplished with the use of Autodesk technology supplied and implemented by KarelCAD.

This year with the economic crisis brings all businesses many challenges. We are very proud to have had the opportunity over the past years to work with our clients in not only providing design technology but of late, the opportunity to help streamline processes and ensuring the right technology is implemented for the right task and then, ultimately the most efficient outcome. It is of such importance that projects are delivered ahead of time and under budget with costs.

Ensuring your business is the most technically efficient is not always about purchasing new software, the fact is in most cases great improvements can be achieved by just ensuring current technologies are properly implemented and features that provide great business benefit are utilised and built into standard best practises in day to day workings.

“I truly look forward to working personally with clients and ensuring the KarelCAD team plugs into your business to ensure that you emerge from today’s challenges, stronger, more focused and more profitable than ever before.” Paul Laycock CEO KarelCAD

“The client projects submitted for the 2009 KarelCAD Evolve are all at a high standard and we are really starting to see strong visualisation being partnered with great design concepts across all industries including Architecture, Construction, Engineering, Civil Infrastructure, Manufacturing and Geospatial. Design teams are really creating great visual presentations and taking their project design to the next level.” David Wilson Marketing Manager
